

These are the British values:

- Democracy
- The rule of law
- Individual liberty
- Mutual respect
- Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

Democracy

Britain is a democracy - this means that the people in Britain vote for the people who make the laws and decide how the country is run.

In school, we elect leaders and hold mock elections in order to understand how decisions are made and to fairly decide on the best leaders in our school.

The mayor, our local councillor and our MP have visited school to hear our voices and to tell us how we can make a difference in our community.

The rule of the law

In Britain we have a legal system and the police force make sure that people uphold the law.

Every year, we re visit our class and school rules and the police visit school to help us understand the laws in our society.

Individual Liberty

In Britain, as long as we do not break the law, we can live as we choose to and have our own opinions about things.

We use our class reflection books to share our individual opinions on topics shared in worship. We also respect the views of others when we share our opinions about what we learn in school.

Mutual Respect

We might not always agree with other people, but we try to show respect for their thoughts and feelings.

We show respect in our actions and words. Respect is a key value in our school. We value our differences and respect the various faiths, traditions and beliefs in our school and community.

Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

In Britain we accept that other people might have different beliefs than ours and they may believe in different religions.

We celebrate key multi-faith festivals together to show a respect for one another's traditions.
